

That Great Junk

Yard in the Sky

This morning I watched them shoot about another six and one half tons of junk into space.

I am wondering if that would not be a solution to dispose of the junk accumulating in our City dumps, and countryside.—OTTO HIELSCHER, Ulysses